

BROKEN AXLE

Just your luck. Headed back from town with a load of supplies, and on the trail you hear that distinctive crack that tells you that your day is about to get a lot longer. While examining the damage, the Dodge City Gang rides in from the tree line with plans of helping themselves to your supplies. Your blood boils as they approach.

Starting line: “This day just keeps getting better and better!”

Shooter will start standing by side of wagon in the middle, with both hands gripping one of the wheels. Shotgun is staged on wagon in center, and rifle is staged on horse. At the start signal, shooter will retrieve shotgun and engage shotgun targets until down. Discard shotgun on wagon, move to horse, retrieve rifle, and engage rifle targets. Rifle targets may be engaged in any order, but every target must be hit at least once, and no targets can be double-tapped. Discard rifle on wagon, move to shooter box, and engage pistol targets in any manner, but all targets must be engaged at least once, and no targets can be double-tapped (NOTE: Pistol and rifle targets do not have to be engaged in the same manner).
